Explanation

- These contracts will provide tree banding and removal of old bands to trap cankerworms (approximately 5,600 trees in six areas).
 - Tree banding is an effective method to reduce cankerworm infestations in the spring, thus preserving the health of trees which reduces the potential for tree failure.
 - Bands are placed around the tree trunks in the fall to trap emerging moths before they reach the canopy.
- On July 9, 2018, the City issued a Request for Proposals (RFP); 13 proposals were received.
- These six firms best meet the City’s needs in terms of qualifications, experience, cost, and responsiveness to RFP requirements.
- Tree banding brochures are distributed each year with information about how to band a tree, the effect tree banding has on cankerworms, and how citizens can help control cankerworms.
- City staff also meets with civic groups and clubs as a part of the outreach effort, which begins in July.
- Cankerworm tree banding supports focus areas and initiatives outlined in City Council’s Urban Forest Master Plan, adopted September 25, 2017.
- Estimated contract expenditures for all contracts are $620,961 over the three year term.
